The Play of Pizareo in the Mines of California.—A returned Californian tells a story to the effect that while at the mines an inferior theatrical company opened there with the play of Pizarro. The house was crowded with miners, who were ever ready to patronize anything that would afford amisement. When the Perivian here was ready to go on for the interview with the sentinel, whom he attempts to bribe, to procure an interview with "Alouzo," he asked the property man for the wedge of gold which he is supposed to use, when that individual handed him agilded brickbat of the ordinary size. It was too late—the stage was waiting, and "Rolla" entered and went through the scene.

It was truly sad to be in Venice; for the six days that I was there I saw none of the higher classes either in the streets or on the canals or in the churches. Their melancholy is such that they hide themselves in their ernment, but they have seen the folly of red republicanism, and now desire a strong but constitutional monarchy, such as they might have under Victor Emmanuel. Their palaces are deserted, and the beautiful city of Venice seems to be lapsing into a pile of rains, pic-turesque but sad.

"Why, Mr. C.," said the gentleman in reply, "my bill was taken up yesterday, you voted for it, and it was passed!" The Hon. Senator did not pursue the conversation further, but had other business calling him in another direction.

Submarine Search for Lost Quickellyne. A Valuable Stone Found,—A company of submarine workmen are now making a second effort to recover seventy or eighty thousand dollars' worth of quickeilver, lost by the sinking of the clipper ship Flying Dutchman, on Brigantice Shoals, near Atlantic City, New Jersey, in 1857. They are meeting with much success. Among the relies which they have already recovered is a large, dark marble slab, measuring four feet long by two feet wide, and eight inchesthick. It was destined for the Washington National monument, and bears upon its face the following inscription: "The Miners of Columbia. Toalomne County, California, from their Mines to the Father of their Country. July 4, 1859." Upon each of the four corners of the surface is cut a star, and each star is beautifully inlaid with a specimen of gold quartz rock. It is in an excellent state of preservation, the polish remaining perfect, notwithstanding it has been lying at the bottom of the sea, in forty feet water since February, 1857. A Girl Ravished and Hung by Robbers.
Two men called at a house in Palmyrn, N.
Y., a few days since, and asked for something to eat. The girl who admitted them stated that she was alone and requested them to depart, which she supposed they did. Shortly after she had occasion to go into another room, and as she opened the door she was saized by the men, who choked her, to prevent her making any noise, and buttally prevent her making any noise, and brutall ravished her. They then took her apron of tore it into strips, which they put about he acek, dragged her to the cellar, and hum her to a floor timber. Fortunately the clot cord gave way just in time to save her life and she was found in the cellar by the family upon their return home. completely we upon their return home, completely enhausted.

RECORD FOR PRESERVING SINKS FROM FOURNESS.—In hot weather at is almost impossible to prevent sinks becoming foul unless some chemical preparation is used. One pound of copperas dissolved in four gallons of water, poured over a sink three or four times will completely destroy the offensive odor. As a disinfecting agent to scalar around premises affected with any unpleasant odor, nothing is better than a mixture of four parts dry ground plaster of Paris to one part fine charcoal, by weight. All sorts of glass vessels coal, by weight. All sorts of glass vessels and other uteasils may be effectually cured from offensive smells, by rinsing them, with charcoal powder, after the grosser impurities have been accepted off with sand and soap.

A FISH SEVEN YEARS IN SOLITARY CON A Fish Seven Years in Solitary Con-pinement.—Lately the water in the large tank in the Edinburgh Castle having been run off for the purpose of executing some re-pairs, one of the workmen engaged in re-moving the slit from the bottom caught alive trout six inches long. This trout must have come through the pipe from the reservoir at the Pentland Hills, and as the tank has not been cleaned since its erection, seven years ago, the fish has probably passed several years in selftary confinement.

An Exhause Elarmany in Mashachusetts. The performing elephant connected with the circus exhibiting at Haverhill, Mass., a few days ago, took offense at his treatment and broke away from his keeper, tearing down seats and rashing through the tent, making his way through several streets, when he was overtaken by his keeper and brought into subjection. His movements through the streets created great excitement and frightened horses, though no one was "trop on," nor any serious damage done.

don Times of the 5th of June says:

The wreck register of the year will be a shocking one. We can hardly venture on calculating the statistics of desolation which will be published next October, but it will be surprising indeed if the figures are not high beyond all presedent. It is said that some three hundred vessels have been lost since Monday week, and that the marrifice of life is in proportion to that of property.

Wind Carrie for Illinois.—The steamer Chancellor, which passed up the Mississippi River on the 19th, had on board forty lead of wild mattle, laken from the Red River country. A man named Wilson is the owner of them, and it is his intention to take them to Illinois, where an effort will be made to fatten them for the Southern market.

Bladensburg as a Dacling Ground The Affairs of Honor There Enumerated. A correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Desice writes in a late letter from Bladensburg, Md.:

An Emetic Mistaken for Pelson-The Dan-mer of Having a Sultan for a Patient.

A late Constantinopic letter says: The Sultan having fallen ill about this time, sent for his favorite physician. Now, this physi-cian, a well-known Greek of Pera, had had the good fortune, about twelve months pre-vious, to relieve the royal frame of a small amount of fever and ague, for which he had received unbounded honors and munificeut gifts, a palace also, having ever since been in process of building for him.

"You curret me once," said the Sultan, "curretme now." burg, Md.:

This place, so noted for its polite and refined murders, is about five miles from the city, fresh and handsome, in full livery of green, adorned with flowers, and abould blush in its beauty for the scenes it has witnessed. Here, in a beautiful little grass-plat surrounded by trees, forms, made after the image of God, come to insult nature and defy Heaven. In 1814 Edward Hopins was killed here in a duel. This seems to have been the first of these fashlonable murders on this duelling ground. "care me now."

The symptoms succeeding the swallowing the 'chagrin' of the naryhile and pape having been examined, an emetic was administered, and the physician withdrew. But while the doctor was in the Seventh Heaven of expechere in a duel. This seems to have been the first of these fashionable murders on this duelling ground.

In 1819, A. T. Mason, a United States Senator from Virginia, fought with his sister's husband, John McCarty, here. McCarty was averse to fighting and thought there was no necessity for it, but Mason would fight. McCarty named muskets loaded with grape shot, and so near together that they could hit heads if they fell on their faces. This was changed by the seconds to loading with bullets and taking twelve feet as the distance. Mason was killed instantly, and McCarty, who had his collar bone broken, still lives with Mason's sister. In Georgetown. His hair turned white so soon after the fight as to cause much comment. He has since been solicited to act as a second in a duel, but refused, in accordance with a pledge made to his wife soon after killing her brother.

In 1820, Commodore Decator was killed in a duel here by Commodore Barron. At the first fire both fell forward and lay with their heads within ten feet of each other, and as each supposed himself mortally wounded, each fully and freely forgave the other, still lying on the ground. Decator expired immediately, but Barron eventually recovered. In 1821, two stranges named Lega and Sega, appeared here, fought, and Sega was instantly killed. The neighbors only learned this much of their names from the marks on their gloves left on the ground. Lega was not hurt.

In 1822, Midshipman Locke was killed. doctor was in the Seventh Heaven of expec-tation, his royal patient found himself in the predicament of the man who said it was "no use to give him an emetic, he never could keep it down." His majesty believed that he had been poisoned. The physician was arrested and thrown into prison; the building of the palace was stopped, and no one can tell what other measures might have been resorted to, had not twelve other physicians, after much discussion, decided that the peculiar nature of the disease required the very symptoms produced by the medicine. A gentleman of Philadelphia has just com-pleted a valuable improvement in horse-shoes, which, it is said, enables horses to states, which, it is sast, enables horses to travel over paved streets without injury, and as easily as on farms or common roads. A thin plate of steel or iron is constructed to fit the hoof, and then the shoe a strip of gundastic or other equivalent substance is placed, and the three securely rivited together. To allow of the fastening of the plate to the hoof, and to give the gutta-percha clasticity, without loosening the unis in the hoof, pieces are taken from the side of the lower shoe, which permits the heads of the nails to push up to the plate and thereby hold it securely to the hoof, while the shoe and gumare held to the plate by the rivits put in before uniling it to the hoof. The plates, when made, will last for years, as they never touch the ground, and those using them upon their horses can, by having duplicate plates, which can be put on in a few minutes. The advantages of the shoes are, that the gumbetween the plates will absorb all the vibration caused by the shoes striking the stones; here effects will be no jer to the horse.

this much of their names from the marks on their gloves left on the ground. Lega was not hurt

In 1822, Midshipman Locke was killed here in a duel with a Clerk of the Treasury Department named Gibson. The latter was not hurt. In 1826, Henry Clay fought his second duel with John Randolph, just across the Potomac, as Randolph preferred to die, if at all, on Virginia soil, received Clay's shot and then fired his pistol in the air. This was in accordance with a declaration made to Mr. Benton, who spoke to Randolph of a call the evening before on Mrs. Clay, and alluded to the quiet sleep of her child and the repose of the mother. Randolph quickly replied, "I shall do nothing to disturb the sleep of the child or the repose of the mother." Gen. Jessup, whose funeral I attended last sweek, was Clay's second.

When Randolph fired he remarked, "I do not shoot at you Mr. Clay," and extending his hand advanced toward Clay whore his ball struck his coat and said facetiously: "Mr. Clay you owe me a coat." Clay replied, "Thank God the debt is no greater." They were friends ever after. In 1832, Martin was killed here by Carr. Their first names are not remembered. They were from the South. In 1833, Mr. Key, son of Frank Key, and brother of Barton Key, of Sickles notoriety, met Mr. Sherborn and exchanged a shot, when Sherborn add: "Mr. Key, I have no desire to kill you." "No matter," said Key, "I came to kill you." "Very well, then," said Sherborn, "I will now kill you," and he did.

In 1838, W. J. Graves, of Kentucky, us-and "Rolla" entered and went through the scene.

He came off in a towering passion, and nabbed the property-man. "What in thunder did you mean by giving me a heavy brick to carry on there, instead of a piece of shingle or a spike, gilded?" "That might all be very well in the States," replied the property-man, "but an offer to bribe here with any thing short of a five-pound chunk, would have turned the audience against you; the play would have been literally d—d!—and the theater would have ended with the first night!" The tragedian saw the force of his reason, and succumbed at once. said Sherborn, "I will now kill you," and he did.

In 1838, W. J. Graves, of Kentucky, assuming the quarrel of James Watson Webb with Jonathan Cilley, of Maine, selected this place for Cilley's murder, but the parties icarning that Webb with two friends, Jackson and Morrel well armed and in pursuit, for the purpose of assessinating Cilley, moved toward the river and nearer the city. Their pursuers followed toward the river, but missed the parties and shen returned to the city, to which they were soon followed by Graves and the corpse of Cilley. In 1845, a lawyer named Jones, fought with and killed a Dr. Johnson. In 1851, R. A. Hoole and A. J. Dallas had a hostile meeting here. Dallas was shot in the shoulder, but recovered. In 1852, Daniel and Johnson, two Richmond editors, held a harmless satate here, which terminated in coffee. Jun1853, Davis and Ridgway fought here—Ridgeway allowed his antagonist to fire without returning the shot.

is such that they hide themselves in their houses, so as not to be compelled to behold constantly their oppressors. The Government has now 150,000 soldiers in the province, and more are going down continually.

Any one who sees this people now must sympathize with them. I do not find them as they were six years ago. I then thought of them as fanatical and unfit for free government, but they have seen the folly of red republicanism, and now desires a stange but THE AMERICAN CHAPEL IN PARIS.-The The American Chapel is Paris,—The Paris correspondent of the New York World says: "The congregation of the American Chapel are about to experience another change of pastors." It is charged that it has the personal encouragement and support of President Carreras, whose ultimate object is the permanent occupation of the State and its annexation to Guatemala.

PREUMATIC DISPATCH COMPANY .-- A "PREU PNEUMATIC DISPATCH COMPANY.—A "Pneumatic Dispatch Company" is about to be organized in London, the members of which propose to carry on the construction of pneumatic tubes through which parcels will be conveyed from one portion of the metropolis to the other. It is proposed to lay down a complete and extended series of public lines, on a scale which will receive not merely papers and packets, but parcels of considerable bulk, including the mail bags of the Postoffice between the sailways and the district offices.

A BLACKGUARD INSULUS A LADY, AND LEARS FEOM A TRAIN,—A drunken blackguard insuited & lady in the excursion train over the Cimcinnati and Indianapolis Road, on its return from Waidron, on Saturday night, and, to escape the punishment he so richly deserved, he jumped out of a window while the train was under full headway. It was dark, and, although the train was stopped and search made for him, he was not seen afterward. He either escaped without serious injury, and made off, or landed with such force as to be buried completely in the ground.

Summes Treatment of Consumetion.—The Invention of a Machine for Skinning Esla—The latest novelty in the way of invention is a machine for skinning ecla. Such a machine has actually been invented and patented, by Adam Emeigh, of Jerusalem, Long Island. The Scientific American says it has been practically tested, and is found to perform the work in a manner much more expeditions and preferable than when done in the ordinary way, the fiesh not being bruised and discolored as is usually the case.

Summer Theatment of Consumption.—The celebrated Dr. J. F. Churchill, of the Imperial Academy of Medicine, at Paris, whose discovery of the hyphophosphites of lime and soda, as a remedy in consumption and hervous diseases, is giving much general satisfaction among the medical men, says in his Treatise—"In pulmonary diseases, the most active treatment should be pursued during the summer months—the period when most patients unwisely suspend the use of the remedy." DECAY OF THE HYDE PARK ELME.—It is said that an examination of the clms in Hyde Park. London, discloses the fact that they are all in a state of decay, nothing but a thin layer of supwood overlaying a decayed core, and serving to preserve an appearance of vigor. The roots of a number of trees which have been blown down in late gales have been found on examination to be full of white spawn or dry rot, and the impression is that none of the trees will last much longer—their total disappearance being merely the question of a few years, more or less.

CLERGYMES AND CHURGES IN LENDOX.—It is stated that London has 939 clergymen, 429 churches, and 419 chapels, of which latter the independents have 121, the Baptists 100, the Wesleyans 17, the Roman Catholics 59, the Calvanists and English Presbytorians 19, the Quakers 7, the Jews 10, and the numerous other sects from one to five each.

From Washington—The Postenice Denciency Bill a Linw.

Washington, June 25.—Altogether contrary to previous indications, the Postoffice Deficiency Bill has become a law. It was saved from defeat by the House unexpectedly receding from the amendment, until now so decidedly persevered in, providing for the restoration, with a few exceptions, of all the inland service suspended on the 4th of March, 1859, apart from the appropriations for deficiencies. It requires the Postmaster General to advertise for proposals, and contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the transportation of the mails by steamships from Charleston, via Savannah, to Key West and back, twice a month or offener, from the lat of July next to the 1st of June, 1854, inclusive, at such sum as he may think necessary, not exceeding $50,000 per annum. This and the act establishing mails six times a week from Sacramento to Olympia, are the only two special provisions enacted in relation to the mails.

The committee of the Senate unanimously second and Sacramento to Sacramento to March March a week from Sacramento to Olympia, are the only two special provisions emacted is relation to the mails.

The committee of the Senate unanimously reported in favor of Butterfield's line of Mexican Gulf mail steamers, the House committee having previously acted on it favorably. The bill was lost for want of time. The Post-Route Bill, as previously predicted, failed, having been returned from the Senate overloaded with smendments.

The galleries of both Houses were densely crowded with persons of both sexes, to witness the closing scenes, which were marked by nothing of a disreputable character, as on previous occasions. The President and members of the Cabinet were at the Capitol during the morning, transacting business in connection with public measures.

Among the last bills approved by the President, is one reducing the rates for public printing 40 per cent. on the present prices, to take effect from the date of its passa ge.

The Special Committee, to report next session, on the President's further protest, communicated to-day, against the Covode Committee, consists of Messrs. Stanton, Curry, Adams of Mass., Sedgewick and Pryor.

mittee have substituted Herschel B. Johnson, of Georgia.

A large body, accompanied by a band of of mosic, proceeded to-night to the residence of Mr. Breckenridge, and having serenaded him, he, in response to repeated calls, appeared, saying he felt deeply this manifestation of friendly regard, and accepted it as an approval of the proceedings at Baltimore, by which the National Democratic Convention presented his name and that of his gallant and bonored friend, Gen. Lane, for President and Vice-President of the United States.

Senator Davis followed in an eloquent strain, of the personal and public character of Breckinridge and Lane. The Democracy was not the party which seeks for spoils, or rests itself upon the claims of men. When Mr. Van Buren proved untrue, they cast him off as a diseased member, and when at a more recent period another Democrat proved recent, it remained for the party, laithful to its institutions, to separate him also from the body. He vindicated the Convention that nominated Breckinridge. Let spoilsmen go where inclination leads them. The Democracy honor Mr. Buchanan for all he has done, and cast the complaints of office seekers to the winds. [Laughter.]

He spoke of the Constitution, State Rights, justice and fraternity as the principles under which Breckinridge and Hallett followed, the latter insisting, as the framer of the Cuctinnati Platform, that there is nothing therein

Messra. Toombs and Hailett followed, the latter insisting, as the framer of the Cincinnati Platform, that there is nothing therein the least countenancing Squatter Soveneignty. The Wilmot Proviso having been removed from Congress, it was adopted with a view of keeping slavery out of the Territories, and to gain Abolition votes under a spurious Demodracy.

Mr. Hogan, of Kentucky, made some humorous remarks.

The procession proceeded to Brown's Hotel, where an immense crowd had previously gathered. Geneval Lane, after the performance of an air, appeared, and tendered his thanks to the assembly for this manifestation of their kindness.

of their kindness. He was proud of the nominee of the Baltimore Convention; he was a man whom he had long known on the battle field, and in the councils of the nation, and he felt deeply honored in being placed on the same ticket with him. He (Lane) accepted the nomination of the National Democracy assembled at Baltimore, and, with them, believed in the equality and rights of the States under the Constitution. Tancey followed, saying that the Convention was in a crisis from which it is the duty of the Democracy to retrieve it. He spoke at considerable length, and was frequently applauded. The demonstration continued beyond midnight.

Feeling in Washington.

Washington, June 26.—The committee to inform the candidates of their nomination waited on Gov. H. V. Johnson, to-night, at the National Hotel. He received them in the large dining-room of the hotel, which was crowded with ladies and gentlemen. He accepted the nomination indorsing the platform in every particular, and declaring that the South would sustain the principles laid down in it. In his opinion, the doctrine of non-intervention was a necessity to the preservation of the Union, [applause] and he should quietly, firmly, and he hoped bravely, accept the responsibility imposed upon him. He cherished the hope that Providence will lead us out of our civil disasters, and in His good time conduct us to tranquility and peace. [Long continued cheering.]
